

Hunter Technical Resources Joins TechLinks Community

Hunter Technical Resources, an Atlanta-based technical staffing firm, recently joined the TechLinks community. Founded in 1998 by several Georgia Tech graduates, Hunter has a strong presence in the local Atlanta market built upon a history of excellent customer service, technical expertise, and efficiency. Hunter specializes in recruiting both permanent and contract technical personnel and maintains an extensive list of clients — ranging from small local firms to blue-chip corporations. Headquartered in the Sandy Springs RiverEdge office complex, Hunter provides its recruiting services on a national scale.

Senior management and founders of Hunter include: Scott Hall, President; Tracy Bailey, VP of Recruiting; Alex Brown, CFO; and Clint Bailey, VP of Sales. With over 40 years combined technical recruiting experience, Hunter's management team fosters a work environment that boasts a recruiter retention rate unparalleled in the staffing industry.

Moving forward, Hunter envisions TechLinks as a significant contributor to its brand awareness and marketing efforts. Founder and VP of Sales, Clint Bailey, comments, "TechLinks is a natural fit for us. They have an excellent reputation and far-reaching influence in the Atlanta technical community. We are excited to be among their stable of clients and are looking forward to a long relationship."
